

thenationalpulse.com

REVEALED: Govt Censorship Tool Aimed at Swinging Election is Funded by Russia Hoax-Linked Billionaire Anti-Trumper.

Jack Montgomery

26–33 minutes

Public records requests have revealed that a Department of Homeland Security (DHS) initiative aimed at censoring social media users during the 2020 election was funded by hardline ‘Never Trump’ figure and Biden donor Pierre Omidyar.

Omidyar, a French-born, Iranian-American billionaire founder of eBay, provided money to the Center for Internet Security (CIS) nonprofit to create its Misinformation Reporting Portal (MiRP), according to investigative reporter Lee Fang.

This portal was used by what Fang describes as a “coalition of liberal-leaning research groups,” including the Democratic National Committee – and excluding the Republican National Committee.

It operated under the supervision of the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Agency (CISA) which unlike the CIS itself, is a U.S. government agency answerable to the Department of Homeland Security.

Content flagged through its portal, “predominantly” posted by conservatives, was forwarded to moderation teams at Twitter and Facebook to be censored, at a 61 percent success rate.

Fang, who collaborated with journalist Matt Taibbi on the “Twitter Files,” stressed that his documentation confirms the “CIS and CISA worked together” to flag content, describing the arrangement as a “public-private partnership”.

The Never Trump Billionaire.

While accurately described as a major funder of organizations backing Biden’s bid for the presidency by Fang, Pierre Omidyar has also put money into well-known “RINO” (Republican In Name Only) groups.

As reported by The National Pulse in 2022, he put substantial sums into the Defending Democracy Together initiative founded by Never Trump commentator Bill Kristol.

Omidyar was also connected to the so-called Real Facebook Oversight Board affiliated with Russia Hoax ringmaster Christopher Steele, funding it via his George Soros-partnered Luminate foundation.

The news is certain to raise suspicions over far left money and it's deployment in the upcoming 2024 election.

Donald Trump's "battle-hardened" 2024 campaign staff are motivated by both loyalty and "a desire for revenge" as a result of the persistent banana republic-style political persecution of the former President, so reports The Times of London.

"The team of battle-hardened pros he has assembled may be his best hope," writes Washington correspondent David Charter.

Political veterans in Trump's team include "de facto chief of staff" Susie Wiles, lauded in the article for "her brilliant organizational skills", and Tony Fabrizio, Trump's chief pollster, who was once described by an opponent as "flat-out one of the smartest dudes I know." Another top staffer mentioned is strategist Chris LaCivita, a former marine with a wealth of campaign experience.

The article also lavishes praise on Jason Miller (former War Room, GETTR), as well as comms impresario Steven Cheung, social media chief Dan Scavino, and lawyer Boris Epsteyn.

Alex Conant, a former political strategist for U.S. Senator Marco Rubio, told Axios Trump has "hired some real professionals and understands that the only way he wins the nomination for a third time is by running a very disciplined campaign."

Trump's team has already begun to rally against the 37 felony counts revealed on Thursday, June 8. Of the Department of Justice, which is responsible for bringing the charges, Trump argued: "This is a sick nest of people that needs to be cleaned out immediately."

show less ^

Donald Trump's "battle-hardened" 2024 campaign staff are motivated by both loyalty and "a desire for revenge" as a result of the persistent banana republic-style political persecution of the former President, so reports The Times of London. show more v

Ron DeSantis's wife, Jill "Casey" DeSantis, is set to take over the Florida governor's faltering campaign after weeks of malaise and an inability to increase his poll numbers.

Mrs. DeSantis's involvement in the campaign is believed necessary to counteract her husband's "perceived aloofness and reluctance to embrace retail politics."

Debbie Walsh, director at the Center for American Women in Politics at Rutgers University, argues the former Golf Channel and CNN broadcaster will "humanize" her husband, as well as assist in ways Ron is not "as skilled or adept."

But Jill's involvement is nothing new if you ask Vanity Fair: "[Ron] DeSantis consults [Casey] on everything from hiring decisions and media appearances to policy positions and wardrobe choices. She's been known to write thank-you cards and make phone calls on his behalf."

In the video below, you can see Jill "Casey Black" DeSantis – another name she has gone by – promoting the neo-liberal Club for Growth. At the time of the clip, the Club for Growth had just endorsed her husband, Ron DeSantis, for Congress. The pair were married at Disney World in 2009.

show less

Ron DeSantis's wife, Jill "Casey" DeSantis, is set to take over the Florida governor's faltering campaign after weeks of malaise and an inability to increase his poll numbers. show more

Nicola Sturgeon, the former First Minister of Scotland and leader of the Scottish National Party (SNP) has been arrested as part of an ongoing investigation into the party's finances.

Sturgeon is perhaps best known in the United States as a one-time foil to Donald Trump and his Scottish golf properties. After she left office, the former President declared: "Good riddance to failed woke extremist Nicola Sturgeon of Scotland! This crazed leftist symbolises everything wrong with identity politics.”

According to Police Scotland, Sturgeon “is in custody and is being questioned by Police Scotland detectives.”

“A report will be sent to the Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service,” the police added.

The ongoing investigation – known as “Operation Branchform” – is examining potential fundraising fraud within the party, concerns about which initially began in 2017 after a Labour Party member of the Scottish Parliament demanded the Electoral Commission look into whether the SNP was spending fundraising money on political campaigns.

In April this year, Sturgeon’s husband and former CEO of the SNP, Peter Murrell, was arrested and spent 12 hours in police custody. That same day, Sturgeon’s house and the SNP’s Edinburgh-based headquarters were searched by police officers in connection to the alleged offenses.

show less

Nicola Sturgeon, the former First Minister of Scotland and leader of the Scottish National Party (SNP) has been arrested as part of an ongoing investigation into the party's finances. show more

A defiant and perhaps even surprisingly upbeat Donald J. Trump hit the ground in Greensboro, North Carolina on Saturday evening, declaring in remarks due this evening: “I’ve put everything on the line—and I will not yield. I will NEVER be deterred, and I will NEVER stop fighting for YOU. With your vote, we will take back our country from these fascists and thugs, and we will Make America Great Again!”

Trump briefly spoke with The National Pulse and POLITICO on board his private jet before touching down in The Old North State. Asked about how he maintains his combative demeanor, he told the Pulse, “What choice do I have?” after declaring that he would not back down from the huge fights before him.

“They’ve launched one hoax and witch hunt after another to try to stop our movement and thwart the will of the American People. It’s called Election Interference,” Trump will say tonight at the North Carolina GOP Convention.

Before the speech, he told The National Pulse that he didn’t back down in 2016, after “Billy Bush weekend” when even members of his own campaign were wavering. He said, “this is very different,” but implied that not backing down then meant not backing down now. Trump is expected in a Miami courtroom on Tuesday.

“For three years, Joe Biden and his corrupt allies in Washington have waged economic warfare on the hardworking citizens of our country. Biden flooded your communities with millions of illegal aliens, crushing American wages and stealing American jobs.”

“Since Biden took office, the typical family has lost over $7,400 in purchasing power.”

Trump’s focus in North Carolina appears to be jobs and the economy, after a speech to a capacity crowd in Georgia honed in on corruption in the U.S., and repairing America’s broken foreign policy.

“Job number one for the next president is to reverse Biden’s economic horror show and restore our economy to greatness. Under my leadership, we built the greatest economy in the history of the world—in fact, we did it twice, and now, we will do it once again.”

“As President, I ended years of bitter betrayals of North Carolina workers. I withdrew from the job-killing Trans-Pacific Partnership, a globalist calamity that would have killed American manufacturing forever. I stopped it.”

“I ENDED the disaster known as NAFTA, the worst trade deal ever made, and replaced it with the U.S.M.C.A., the best trade deal ever made. The deal was so good in fact that Mexico and Canada are now trying to renegotiate it with the Biden administration. Don’t do it!”

“I stood up to China like no administration has ever done before —bringing hundreds of billions of dollars pouring into our treasury from China, when no other president had gotten even 10 cents from them. And when China targeted our farmers, I gave $28 billion dollars to the farmers straight out of the tariffs China was paying.”

“On Day One, I will unleash American Energy and we will rapidly beat back inflation.”

“We are going to fight the globalist vultures in the Washington Swamp just as we did before—and we are going to win.”

show less

A defiant and perhaps even surprisingly upbeat Donald J. Trump hit the ground in Greensboro, North Carolina on Saturday evening, declaring in remarks due this evening: “I’ve put everything on the line—and I will not yield. I will NEVER be deterred, and I will NEVER stop fighting for YOU. With your vote, we will take back our country from these fascists and thugs, and we will Make America Great Again!” show more

COLUMBUS, Georgia – Former President Donald J. Trump made a surprise visit to a Waffle House in Georgia on Saturday afternoon, stunning onlookers and drawing a crowd while he declared, “Waffles on Trump!”

Trump, who had just left the stage after delivering a speech to a capacity crowd at the Columbus Convention and Trade Center, told the owner that he was buying waffles for everyone on the premises, before chatting with patrons and singing photographs.

“I love you Donald!” yelled one lady from the back, before another group approached Trump with a package, claiming they had made his mother’s famous meat loaf recipe at their restaurant – Ruth Anns’ – down the street, hoping to bump into him to deliver it.

Crowds lined the streets in Columbus as Trump’s motorcade whisked him through, en route to his next stop in Greensboro, North Carolina.

The 45th President used his address at the Georgia GOP convention to blast his most recent indictment, as well as take aim at Joe Biden, Ron “DeSanctimonious”, and the Chinese Communist Party.

More coverage, from North Carolina, will follow this report.

show less ^

COLUMBUS, Georgia – Former President Donald J. Trump made a surprise visit to a Waffle House in Georgia on Saturday afternoon, stunning onlookers and drawing a crowd while he declared, “Waffles on Trump!”

show more v

COLUMBUS, Georgia — Former President Donald Trump will speak in Georgia this afternoon, and is expected to announcement a raft of policy positions and declare: “On November 5th, 2024, we are going to stand up to the corrupt political establishment, we are going to evict a totally corrupt Joe Biden from the White House, and we are going to FINISH what we started!”

Described by aides as “defiant” in his demeanor today, the 45th President took off from Newark, New Jersey around 11:30am on Saturday, travelling with Georgia representative Marjorie Taylor Greene as well as his closest aides and advisors.

He landed to crowds of supporters, walking the line, shaking hands, as fans chanted “four more years!” as well as “we love you.” The streets outside the airport were also lined with supporters as the ex-POTUS’s motorcade travelled to the GOP convention.

In expected remarks that can be shared by The National Pulse, Trump is expected to say: “It’s no coincidence they indicted me the VERY SAME DAY it was revealed that the FBI hid explosive evidence that Joe Biden took a $5 million illegal bribe from Ukraine.”

His speech will also foretell of the probability of a third world war, unless he is able to negotiate a truce between Ukraine and Russia.

“Before I even arrive at the Oval Office, shortly after I win the presidency, I will have the horrible war between Russia and Ukraine settled. It will be done within 24 hours. I am the only candidate who can make this promise: I will prevent World War Three. Without me, it will happen.”

Trump will also fire at the Chinese Communist Party and Joe Biden, stating: “To save our economy from Joe Biden’s inflation catastrophe and economic disaster, I will deliver tax cuts, energy price cuts, and interest rate cuts the likes of which you have never seen before.”

Trump will also state: “I will immediately sign a new executive order to cut federal funding for any school pushing Critical Race Theory, transgender insanity, and other inappropriate racial, sexual, or political content on our children.”

He will conclude: “If you took the five worst presidents in the history of the United States, and added them up, they would not have done near the destruction to our country as Joe Biden and the Biden administration have done.”

“The Silent Majority is rising—and under our leadership, the Forgotten Man and Woman Will Be Forgotten No Longer!”

show less ^

COLUMBUS, Georgia — Former President Donald Trump will speak in Georgia this afternoon, and is expected to announcement a raft of policy positions and declare: “On November 5th, 2024, we are going to stand up to the corrupt political establishment, we are going to evict a totally corrupt Joe Biden from the White House, and we are going to FINISH what we started!" show more

Volodymyr Zelensky has become a “liability” to Washington D.C., and may be dispensed with if a much-vaunted Ukrainian counter-offensive fails to achieve major successes, according to Colonel Douglas Macgregor (Retired).

Speaking on the Steak for Breakfast podcast this week, Col. Macgregor said “Zelensky has always been Washington’s puppet and the puppet has rapidly become a serious liability.”

He noted how Zelensky's meddling in the Ukrainian military's war strategy had "worsened" its position, and that there is "tangible evidence for the imminent failure of Ukraine."

The interview comes shortly after POLITICO – a Zelensky-friendly D.C. paper – trashed the Ukrainian leader in an article calling him "authoritarian" and warning of another "Maidan"-style revolution.

Two months prior, veteran news man Seymour Hersh accused Zelensky and his allies of embezzling hundreds of millions of dollars intended to aid in the war effort.

The full Steak for Breakfast show is available on Apple Podcasts, Google, Spotify, and all other major podcast platforms.

show less

Volodymyr Zelensky has become a "liability" to Washington D.C., and may be dispensed with if a much-vaunted Ukrainian counter-offensive fails to achieve major successes, according to Colonel Douglas Macgregor (Retired). show more

Washington D.C. has passed 100 annual homicides earlier in the year than at any point since 2003. The "grim milestone", as Mayor

Muriel Bowser put it, was reached with a spate of deadly shootings across Tuesday night and the early hours of Wednesday morning, one of which involved a woman in her sixties.

Overall, homicides are 22 percent higher than they were at this point in 2022, and on course to surpass 200 by year's end for the third year in a row.

Prior to 2021, annual homicides had not hit the 200 mark since 2003. In 2020, this mark was just barely missed, with homicides reaching what was then a 15-year high at 198.

The news comes despite the American capital having some of the most stringent gun control laws in the country. Indeed, firearms offenses have only increased in recent years, and are currently up by 40 percent on 2017.

The Government of the District of Columbia is dominated from top to bottom by the Democrats, with a Democrat mayor and Democrat politicians representing every one of its Council wards.

show less

Washington D.C. has passed 100 annual homicides earlier in the year than at any point since 2003. The "grim milestone", as Mayor Muriel Bowser put it, was reached with a spate of deadly shootings across Tuesday night and the early hours of Wednesday morning, one of which involved a woman in her sixties. show more

Britain is banning the use of puberty blockers for children, with the nation opting to only allow the drugs to be used for research purposes. Such drugs are routinely available and increasingly prescribed in the United States.

The National Health Service (NHS) in England published an update on Friday, stating: “We are... proposing that, outside of a research setting, puberty-suppressing hormones should not be routinely commissioned for children and adolescents who have gender incongruence/dysphoria.”

James Esses from the “Thoughtful Therapists” group welcomed the decision: “The fact that the NHS is holding firm on their intention to prevent the use of puberty blockers outside of the context of clinical trials is seismic.

“This will hopefully bring an end to vulnerable children being placed down a pathway to irreversible harm.”

Prescriptions for puberty blockers for under-18s doubled between 2017 and 2021 in the United States.

show less

Britain is banning the use of puberty blockers for children, with the nation opting to only allow the drugs to be used for research purposes. Such drugs are routinely available and increasingly prescribed in the United States. show more

At least one in 10 Americans believe their government is run by Satanic pedophiles, with at least one in four believing that mass migration is designed to replace the current electorate of the U.S. with foreign workers, according to data the Chicago Project on Security & Threats (CPOST) research center at the University of Chicago.

Touted as a “Dangers to Democracy” survey provided to The Guardian, the poll asked if a “secret group of Satan-worshiping pedophiles is ruling the US government”. Ten percent agreed with this proposition as of April 2023, with the percentage more or less constant since June 2021, when it stood at 11 percent.

Indeed, questionable characters have taken center stage in government since Joe Biden took office. National Monkeypox Response Deputy Coordinator Dr. Demetre Daskalakis, for example, sports pentagram tattoos and follows the Satanic Temple on social media, as well as running an occult-themed gym out of a former gay club in an old church building. Daskalakis recently attended an HIV summit in Las Vegas wearing bondage straps and flanked by two semi-naked men, and hosted a Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) event to “commemorate Pride Month” attended by FBI director Christopher Wray.

Until recently, the Biden administration also employed a member of the Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence order of “queer and trans nuns” at the Office of Nuclear Energy.

Sam Briton, alias Sister Ray Dee O’Active, had defended the website rentboy.com, shut down in 2015 following a raid connected to underage prostitution, but still became one of the top earners in government service, with “Q clearance” access to highly sensitive classified information.

Brinton lost his job after being caught stealing airport luggage to procure women’s underwear while on government business, and was recently arrested.

According to the data, one in five Americans say the 2020 election was stolen from Donald Trump, but a paltry 4.4 per cent believe in using force to restore Trump to the White House, undermining the oft-repeated claim that Trump supporters are inherently violence or present any real “threat” to the nation or its institutions.

show less

At least one in 10 Americans believe their government is run by Satanic pedophiles, with at least one in four believing that mass migration is designed to replace the current electorate of the U.S. with foreign workers, according to data the Chicago Project on Security & Threats (CPOST) research center at the University of Chicago. show more 