

theepochtimes.com

Dr. Redfield's Bombshell Testimony

Robert W Malone Mar 10 2023

10–13 minutes

Yesterday, we witnessed the ex-director of the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), under oath, directly blame Dr. Fauci and the U.S. government for the deaths of millions of people.

Page Six

Kristen Doute: 'Numb' Ariana Madix is 'not doing well' after Tom, Raquel affair

1 hour ago

NDTV

Prince Harry And Meghan's Children Get Royal Titles As Buckingham Palace Updates...

2 hours ago

NEW YORK POST

Will Smith 'embarrassed, hurt' over Chris Rock's comments in Netflix

special: report

2 hours ago

However, if you went to the headlines of Google News—there was nary a news story. I guess Google felt it wasn't important enough to warrant above-the-fold status. Seems like they had to make room for important news items, like the ones above.

A keyword search of Redfield on Google News did come up with the following stories.

🔍

Home
For you
Following
U.S.
World
Local Business
Technology
Et

News about Covid

BBC NEWS

Covid-19 origin debate 'squashed', ex-CDC chief Dr Robert Redfield claims

12 hours ago

The New York Times

Republicans Push Lab Leak Theory on Covid's Origins, but Lack 'Smoking Gun'

Yesterday

POLITICO

Trump's CDC director says Fauci shut down debate on Covid's origin

19 hours ago

NEW YORK POST

Ex-CDC chief: Fauci 'sidelined' me from COVID debate for backing lab leak theory

23 hours ago

NATIONAL REVIEW

Ex-CDC Director Takes Fauci to Task for Suppressing Lab-Leak Theory

17 hours ago

... message

The actual testimony of Redfield was explosive. Yet none of these headlines belie the gravity of Redfield's testimony. Redfield directly linked gain-of-function research and the creation of SARS-CoV-WIV to Fauci, and to the U.S. government—including the Department of Defense (DOD). He absolutely believes and gives sworn testimony to the effect that Fauci and Jeremy Farrar, director of the Wellcome Trust and soon be the chief scientist at the World Health Organization, covered up the lab leak information. Redfield himself was excluded from the meetings when the processes, strategy, and tactics for covering up the lab leak were developed.

This winter, we had a high-level federal employee on the farm. He/she came to me anonymously to express concerns about what had happened in the execution of this corrupt and failed public health response, and in particular to how the vaccines were developed and implemented. She/he discussed how all of the high-level meetings on the clinical trials, the safety of the vaccine, and the public health response, were all done under complete secrecy. Recorders were turned off, plus cell phones and computers were not allowed in the meetings. So there are literally NO RECORDS of these meetings.

This person believes that finding evidence of the malfeasance in the meeting minutes or recordings is going to be difficult. So when the New York Times headliner (above) cynically states that the Republicans lack a "smoking gun," I believe they know damn well why. The New York Times reporting and editorial staff are many things, but they are not stupid.

But here is the thing, I do speak to people working on these issues in Congress. I have been told that the federal government has a large paper trail that documents the corruption over the past three years.

But what happened yesterday is explosive—let's start with the video of Congressman Jim Jordan speaking to Redfield.

Note: these clips are not available elsewhere yet, so I am sorry for the ones from Twitter—I know that some here aren't on it.

Your Health Matters

Ads By  tapnative

Rep. @Jim\_Jordan: There Are Nine Million Reasons Why Two Top Scientists Changed Their Stance on Lab Leak Theory

“So three days after they say it came from a lab, they changed their position, and the only intervening event was a conference call with Dr. Fauci and Dr. Collins. Again,... <https://t.co/Oz6PWslbnG>
<pic.twitter.com/fwgY26z6ca>

— The Vigilant Fox 🦊 (@VigilantFox) March 8, 2023

Then listen to Redfield speaking:

“In Sept. 2019, three things happened in that lab. One is they deleted the sequences. Highly irregular, researchers don’t like to do that. The second thing is they changed the command and control from civilian to military. Highly unusual. The third, which is very telling, is they let a contractor redo the ventilation system in that laboratory. Clearly, there was strong evidence that a significant event happened in that laboratory in September.”

Dr. Robert Redfield, the former CDC Director, talks about three suspicious events that took place at the Wuhan lab in September 2019:

“In Sept. 2019, three things happened in that lab. One is they deleted the sequences. Highly irregular, researchers don’t like to do that.” <https://t.co/YjHfyEok1g> <pic.twitter.com/nIT5b96AbE>

— kanekoa.substack.com (@KanekoaTheGreat) March 8, 2023

But there is more: Redfield clearly states that the gain-of-function research received funding from the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the State Department, the U.S. Agency for International Development, and the DOD.

Dr. Robert Redfield: “There’s No Doubt That NIH Funded Gain-of-Function Research”

Ms. Malliotakis: “Is it likely that American tax dollars funded the gain-of-function research that created this virus?”

Dr. Redfield: “I think it did — not only from NIH but from the State... <https://t.co/zLrT8CjFCZ> pic.twitter.com/OqsTsb1hFg

— The Vigilant Fox 🦊 (@VigilantFox) March 8, 2023

For those that missed it, here is the YouTube video of Redfield reading his written testimony in the hearing:

Written Statement of Dr Robert Redfield Before the House Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis

March 8, 2023

Chairman Wenstrup, Ranking Member Ruiz, and members of the Committee, my name is Dr. Robert Redfield. I am pleased to testify today in support of this subcommittee’s important work—to investigate the origin of the COVID-19 virus that resulted in the deaths of over one million Americans.

As I know this Committee is aware, from 2018-2021 I served as the 18th Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention during the Trump administration. As CDC Director, I oversaw the agency’s response to the COVID-19 pandemic from the earliest days of its spread and served as a member of the White House’s Coronavirus Task Force.

But perhaps more relevant to the purpose of this hearing, my 45 years in medicine has been focused on the study of viruses. I am a virologist by training and practice. Prior to my time at the CDC, I spent more than 20 years as a U.S. Army physician and medical researcher at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research where I served as the Chief of the Department of Retroviral Research and worked in virology, immunology, and clinical research at the forefront of the AIDS epidemic and other viral threats. In 1996, I co-founded the Institute of Human Virology at the University of Maryland School of Medicine in partnership with the State of Maryland, the City of Baltimore, and the University System of Maryland where I served as the Director of Clinical Care and Research and also served as a tenured professor of medicine, microbiology and immunology; chief of infectious disease; and vice chair of medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine. After my time at CDC, I served as the senior public health advisor to Governor Hogan and the State of Maryland.

As COVID-19 began to spread across the world, there were two competing hypotheses about the virus's origin that needed to be vigorously explored. The first hypothesis is the possibility that COVID-19 infections in humans were the result of a "spillover event" from nature. This is a situation in which a virus naturally mutates and becomes transmissible from one species to another—in this case, from bats to humans via an intermittent species. This is what happened in previous outbreaks of SARS and MERS, earlier coronaviruses that emerged from bats and spread through an intermediate animal. The second hypothesis is the possibility that the virus evolved in a lab involved in gain-of-function research. This is a type of research in 2 which scientists