In a Further Attempt to Link Ukraine to Nazism, Russia Declares May 9th as End of War in Ukraine

Celebrated as Victory Day in Russia and some other former Soviet States, May 9th marks the surrender of the Third Reich to Soviet forces in 1945. According to Ukrainian officials, the Russian president has already declared this date also to be the end of the war in Ukraine, implying that Russia will redouble its efforts to capture Kyiv and force a surrender from the defending forces.

From the Daily Mail (<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-10652175/Putin-declares-May-9th-as-end-of-war-in-Ukraine-same-date-Russia-defeated-Nazis-in-WW2>):

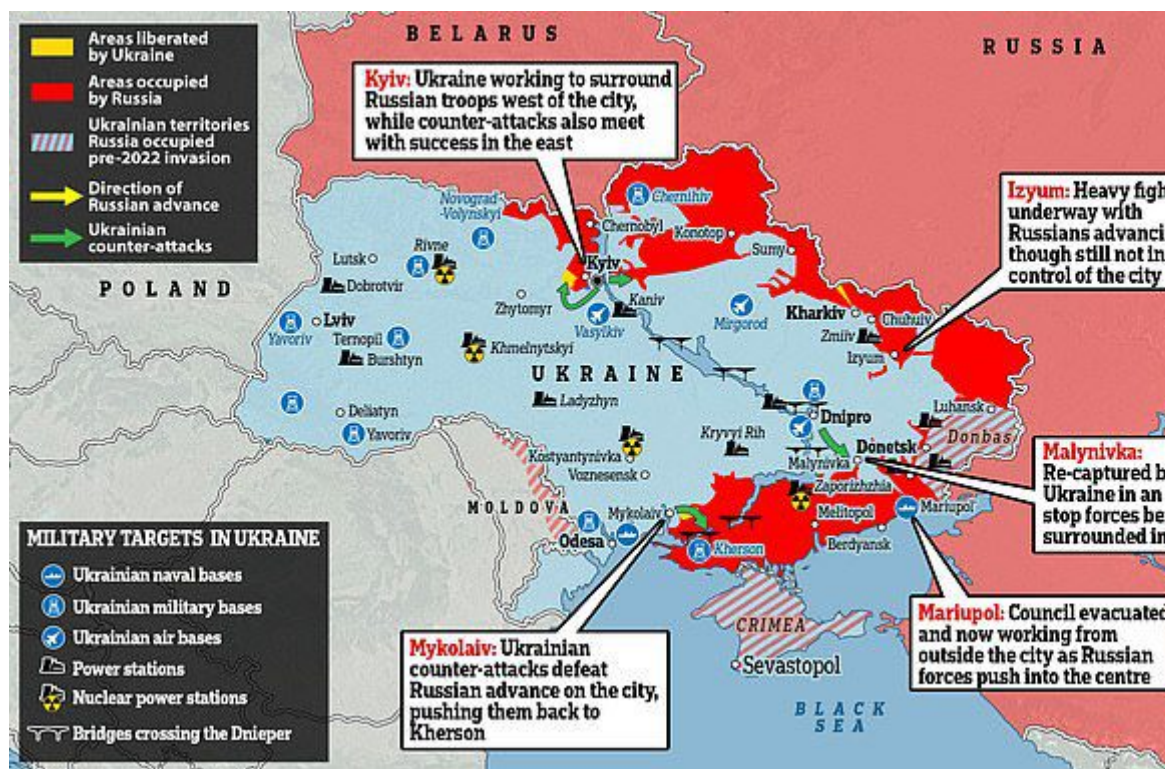

In a Facebook post, the general staff of the Armed Forces of Ukraine said: ‘According to available information, among the personnel of the armed forces of the Russian Federation, propaganda work is constantly being carried out, which imposes the idea that the war is completed before the 9th of May 2022.’

Russia has been declaring Ukraine a “Nazi” nation for over a decade now. It continues to tie the Ukrainian government and military to Nazism in the minds and hearts of people, including those residing in Ukraine. By declaring the end of the war as the same date as the holiday commemorating the defeat of the Nazis will forever be associated with Ukraine as well. This is an intense form of propaganda and one which very well could be effective. However, first Russia must be able to capture Ukraine before that date.

Russia’s war in Ukraine – intended to be a days-long military mission to decapitate the government and bring the country back under Moscow’s influence – is now in its second month with huge losses for both sides.

Russia has thus far failed in its initial objective of capturing Kyiv and overthrowing the government. As both sides face mounting losses, Russian forces are stalling out

Currently, Russia's advance is at a standstill in most of Ukraine, and Kyiv continues to hold out despite the mounting threats from Russia. Russia may prove incapable of capturing Kyiv by the 9th of May.
