Pilots are dying at Southwest Airlines at over 6X the normal rate after the COVID vaccines rolled out

And disabilities are up 10X normal. I thought the vaccines were supposed to reduce death not increase it! I just asked the FAA for their comment, but no answer.

Hi,

I write stevekirsch.substack.com and I have 1M followers worldwide, including thousands in the airline industry.

I was wondering if you can comment on the rate of pilot deaths at Southwest airlines?

It's been averaging about 1 per month since the vaccines rolled out according to a Southwest Airlines pilot I just spoke with.

It used to be 1 or 2 a year.

Has the FAA investigated what is causing the excess deaths? It cannot be COVID since most all the pilots are vaccinated. So what is the cause?

If you haven't investigated the cause, why haven't you? Do you have any plans to investigate?

Thanks.

If they respond, I'll post their response here.

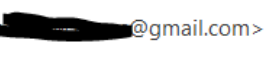

The message I got from a Southwest pilot

I never kept track before C19.. But it couldn't have been more than 1-2 a year. I think 2020 was about 4, and were all suicides.

SW publishes a memorial link showing active employees who have passed. Flight Attendants are about 2-3 a month.

And disabilities are running at 10X normal at Southwest

Excess deaths and disabilities are happening at every airline; not just limited to Southwest.

Mr. Kirsch, I have a friend who is a Southwest pilot. I shared info w/ him recently, and he was unaware of the FAA change to the PR interval on EKGs. Also, he said he had talked off the record w/ his Union rep who said that they normally processed 2-3 disabilities per quarter due to EKG changes but now they are seeing 20+.

Just FYI.

The FAA wants a war, so I'm going to give them one

I'm not going to let the FAA get away with ignoring all the deaths and disabilities.

I'm willing to pay people $5 per name who sign our FAA petition to investigate these injuries. All you do is stand right outside the Crew security checkpoint and hand out the fliers. I'll pay you $5 for any flight attendant/pilot who signs the petition. So you can earn $50/hr or even more and work your own hours. And you'll be doing a huge public service.

I will then pay all costs for 20,000 of these people to come demonstrate outside of FAA headquarters.

If 20,000 doesn't work, then we'll try 40,000 people.
Whatever it takes for these people to investigate.

The protest will end when the FAA agrees to investigate the injuries. Please let me know if you are interested in this offer to help me collect names:

Would you be interested in handing out fliers at the airport CREW security checkpoint asking people to sign our petition to the FAA to ask them to investigate pilot/flight attendant deaths and disability related to the COVID vaccine? I'll pay $5 per name.
